

Model Window Capability

The links under Menu, Web Link and Web Simple Link are defined in the field Target, which is revised and one more type is added besides tab and javascript. You can use the model tag to display the link you created in the model window from now on.

Defining model as header in the Target field, for example model:Information will open in a new page with the header "Information"